

Fund Summary

The fund is invested in companies of different sectors and of diverse market capitalizations and in various fixed income securities. By investing predominantly in a diversified portfolio of common stocks, we seek a favorable long-term rate of return through capital appreciation. We invest in securities that are attractively priced based on detailed analysis considering growth in earnings, cash flow, revenues and other relevant measures.

Investment Approach

We invest in securities filtered through our proprietary investment process. The investment process is a marriage of deep fundamental analysis and quantitative risk control techniques. Our fundamental research is driven by top down and bottom up approach. The investment portfolio is actively monitored and rebalanced on account of changing economic and market conditions.

Calculation Methodology:

- Benchmark: Before Feb-2013, DGEN has been used to calculate benchmark return. Benchmark returns from Feb 2013 have been calculated based on DSEX.
- Sharpe Ratio: The risk free rate for the Sharpe ratio has been taken as the average of the cut off yields of 364-day T-bills auctioned by Bangladesh Bank per month from February 2010 to the relevant date.
- Alpha: $\alpha = \{Funds\ Return\ (r) - Risk\ free\ rate\} - Beta\ (\beta) * \{Benchmark\ Return\ (r) - risk\ free\ return\}$.
- Beta: Beta has been calculated by doing regression on the weekly returns of GREENELMF and the Benchmark from inception to the reporting date.
- Large cap stocks are defined as stocks with market cap above USD 125million.
- Small Cap stocks have market cap below USD 10 million.
